

Nomination and Discharge of the Policy Council

Status: Decision-making

Dear GMA,

With this document, we would like to nominate Emma van Elburg as a new member of the Policy Council. Their statement of motivation can be found below. We would also like to explain the reasons for granting discharge to Job Vermaas from the Policy Council, in accordance with the request made by the GMA on April 9, 2025.

If you have any questions, please contact the Board.

In solidarity,
B81

Nomination of Emma van Elburg

Hi! I'm Emma (she/her), 23 years old, and I'd love to join the ASVA Policy Council! Last year, I served as vice-chair on the 80th Board, and I'm currently in New Zealand conducting research for my master's degree (until the end of December, which is why I won't be attending the GMA). In addition, until early September, I'll be working as a social safety project assistant at the National Student Union (LSVb) on behalf of the Student Pact. I'm also a huge fan of reading books, playing games, and watching documentaries.

During my year on the board, I managed the GMA portfolio, among other things, and was involved in shaping the Policy Council in collaboration with Job and Carlos (former members). I've spent a lot of time working on HR and other policy documents, and I'd like to bring my knowledge of ASVA's internal operations and the experience I've gained at the LSVb to the Policy Council! I believe I'd be a great addition to the Policy Council's current composition.

Discharge of Job Vermaas

After many years of service on ASVA's Policy Council, Job Vermaas will be stepping down from this committee. We thank him for all his hard and meticulous work on the Policy Council and for all the advice he has provided over the past years.
